Save Me

An Ageless Appeal From The Environment

I was born several billion years in the past,
I'm the EARTH, no mortal can outlast;
Alexander, Napoleon, Hitler, I've seen them all,
I'm the EARTH, who has seen the mighty fall.

My arrogance made me feel immortal!
But to day I'm sure my mistake was fatal;

My ozone layer is nearly over,
And I'm now cowering for cover;
The global warming is making me burn,
And the rising ocean levels are making me drown.

The destruction of forests have made my hairline thin,
And the endless soil erosion has wrinkled my skin;
Poison gases are all I get to breathe,
And one by one I'm losing all my teeth;

My robust frame has become weak,
And my endless exploitation has made me meek;
As my future looks scary dark,
"SAVE ME! SAVE ME! is all I ask"

"Murli Menon"

This is an appeal from our dying earth...

Which is crying for your attention.

Please help or it might be too late! (READ ON)
